✶ Serious math problem

By John D Ekstromer

1000 test strips for $1000 equals $1.00 apiece, not 0.18 cents apiece. I don't know where they came up with that, but if they cost 0.18 a piece, that would be $180.00, not $1000.00. If they want to sell them at 1000/$180.00, I'll be happy to but them. You game for that, folks? See all 1 customer reviews...
